The first-year experience of every student is crucial and sets the tone for their entire academic journey. Many students enter university with varying levels of preparedness for the demands of higher education. The first year is a critical period for student retention. Beyond academics, the first year is a period of significant personal development.

Support services can assist students in developing critical life skills, enhancing resilience, and fostering a growth mindset. The success of students, both academically and personally, is significantly influenced by the support they receive during their initial year at the university. For many students, the transition from high school to university represents a significant shift in academic expectations, social dynamics, and personal responsibilities. Support during this period helps students adapt to the new environment.

Evidence has shown that institutions that invest in comprehensive support structures tend to have higher retention rates, ultimately contributing to increased graduation rates. The University of Venda's Center of Higher Education Teaching and Learning (CHETL) is well-positioned to play a significant role in ensuring a positive and supportive first-year experience. CHETL, through its academic unit development, can provide academic advising and counselling services to help students explore different disciplines. CHETL plays a vital role in developing and implementing peer support and mentoring programs. Connecting first-year students with experienced peers or mentors can provide valuable guidance, advice, and a sense of community. Support in developing effective study skills, time management, and learning strategies is seen to significantly impact a student's academic performance.

On behalf of the Centre for Higher Education Teaching Learning (CHETL), I hereby welcome you to this very exciting phase of your life, the end of the 12-year basic education phase and the beginning of your post matric schooling. The first year, although filled with promise and hope, always seems daunting as you anticipate the unknown.

University life demands your determination and focus as you'll be away from the counsel and guidance often provided by parents and guardians. However, do not despair! The Centre (CHETL) is there to ensure that you successfully navigate this phase and beyond. The Centre, through its four units namely, the Academic Development Unit, Disabled Student Unit, E-Learning, as well as the Student Counselling & Career Development Unit is there to support and ensure that your university experience is both enjoyable and successful in all aspects.

All the Units converge to present the First Year Experience Programme which seeks to facilitate your seamless transition into university. It is through this programme that you will also be exposed to all the forms of support services offered, including psycho-social support which is imperative for your overall success. Peer Helpers, Tutors and Mentors will be there to hold your hands, so you are never alone.

May your dreams come true as you set sail on your new voyage!!

WELCOME TO UNIVERSITY LIFE

University life provides a platform for you to grow as an individual. You now have to learn the art of independence in ensuring you successfully complete this new journey in the quest to attaining your degree.

Now that you are in your new space, the onus is on you to ensure that you achieve academic success and all-round wellbeing. The University has various support services to assist you both academically and outside of the academic environment, in ensuring that you excel. You can sign up for various clubs and societies where you can make friends and meaningful connections that may last a lifetime.

REMEMBER to utilise all support services whenever you need to. The services are here to assist you and provide you with holistic development opportunities for you to successfully attain your full University life. So, get ready to experience the time of your life at University of Venda.

Best of luck!

The National Student Financial Aid Scheme(NSFAS)

The National Student Financial Aid Scheme (NSFAS) provides financial aid to eligible students on campus. You qualify to apply for a bursary if:

- You are a South African citizen
- Your combined annual household income does not exceed R350 000 per annum
- You are a SASSA grant recipient

What does the bursary cover?

Registration fees, tuition fees, prescribed learning materials (to the maximum set by NSFAS), subsidised accommodation allowances, subsidised book allowances, subsidised meal allowances, and transport allowances (if not staying in university or private accommodation).

What does this mean for GAP-funded students?

Students who come from households that earn up to R600 000 per annum will be supported by the government to pay the increase through GAP grant funding.

Do you have to work hard?

Yes, to maintain the NSFAS funding you must meet the academic requirements set by the institution to continue with the qualification and should pass at least 75% of all your modules for that year or semester.

What documents do I need to apply for NSFAS?

- Your South African ID document/card or an unabridged birth certificate (if you do not have a green bar-coded ID or smart ID card)
- ID of parents and/or guardian or a death certificate where applicable
- Pay advice/letter of employment/pension advice stating income not older than 3months. SASSA slips are not required and SASSA should not be included as household income.

Can students with disabilities apply for funding?

Yes, students with disabilities are encouraged to apply for financial assistance.

NSFAS provides special disability funding to all approved students with disabilities at any of the 26 public universities.

Does NSFAS pay registration costs for first year and returning students?

Yes. Registration costs are usually the first payment towards your tuition costs if you have been confirmed for funding by NSFAS.

What happens if you are declined for a NSFAS bursary?

If an applicant is not satisfied with the results of their application, they can appeal this decision by filling in the appeal form available on the NSFAS website, which will then be reviewed by the Appeals Committee.

For general enquiries about NSFAS, please visit the NSFAS office on the Opposite A-Block (at University of Venda) or visit the NSFAS website address here: <http://www.nsfas.org.za/content>

Academic Development Unit Welcome Message

No tangedziwa, u amukelekile, siyanamukela, wamkelekile, o amogetšwe, ho lebohile 'na, welcome, jy is welkom! آپکا خیر مقدم ہے!

Congratulations on being admitted as one of our students at the University of Venda where future leaders are created. The Academic Development Unit (ADU) welcomes you all first-year entering (FYE) students in our beloved rural-based university. I hope you have started to recite our ADU FYE motto in your hearts that says 'My UNIVEN, MY HOME'.

ADU is a unit that offers high-quality academic support and development programmes to help you maximise your potential to do well in your studies. As you begin a career-focused journey from being a high school learner and becoming a University of Venda student, it is in no way a mean fit. You are embarking on the life-changing great trek or transition from being a high school learner to becoming a university student. As ADU we would be there for all the steps of your journey from registration to orientation and ultimately graduation.

As you begin this special journey, you need to pause a bit and take a step back and ask yourself several questions such as: why am I here? What do I want? How would I get what I want? What must I do to complete my degree programme? Am I free to do as I wish now that I am away from home? We know and fully understand that adjusting to change is an exciting and overwhelming experience, especially at university. It is for this reason that ADU has different initiatives and programmes tailored to support your academic and non-academic needs to succeed in your journey.

We are, therefore, encouraging all of you to attend all our FYE Programme activities such as roadshows in the 1st Semester and 2nd Semester. We encourage you all to attend all your classes as you have done it while in high school without ceasing. We also encourage you to write all your assessments (class puzzles, tests, assignments, projects and lab experiments).

We have our MENTUT programme providing tutorship and mentorship classes to enhance your learning so that you do well in your studies. Moreover, we have a writing consultancy programme that is meant to assist you with any academic writing (writing academic sound assignments, essays and project reports)

We would also like to say feel free to visit our offices for any support you will need especially if you are struggling academically. We are situated at Management Sciences Building, Offices E1 – E7 Contact us @ 015 962 9386 / Ext 8116 / 8485

We wish you all the best for the academic year 2024 till you graduate

Continue to sing aloud 'My UNIVEN, MY HOME'!

Dr Fhatuwani Ravhuhali, Head Academic Development Unit, Centre for Higher Education Teaching and Learning (CHETL)

Centre for Higher Education Teaching and Learning First Year Experience (FYE)

The First Year Experience is a year long UNIVEN programme focused on providing first- year students with the services and support needed to successfully transition to University of Venda

OUR VISION

To provide student support programmes that are responsive to the teaching and learning needs of first entering students

OUR MISSION

To provide a welcoming and supportive post admission environment to first year students

OUR MOTTO

The Foundation for Students

The FYE Programme assists and guide students in various ways:

- It ensures that first years are acquainted with the FYE Programme and encourage attendance of FYE Programmes
- Keep abreast with mentee academic performance and general wellbeing
- Refer first year mentees to various support services offered by ADU Unit
- Provide academic support through referrals to faculties, and other support services.
- First Year Experience (FYE) programme - Offers services and programmes to ensure first year entering students participate successfully at the University of Venda.
- First years are assisted by ADU Team and its sister units to form part of the First year Experience Mentorship Programme.

First Year Experience Mentorship Programme

The First Year Experience Mentorship Programme are a peer-to-peer support journey designed to develop a sense of community to ensure that first-year students feel a sense of belonging and connectedness within the University community.

A mentor is a senior student who has extensive institutional knowledge and experience of student and academic life within the university.

Mentors provide guidance and support to first-year students' transition from high school to university.

The objectives of the Mentorship Programme is to take first-year students on a journey of discovery, which is facilitated through the following:

- Creating safe spaces for first-years to build a peer support network;
- Connecting first-year students to key support structures;
- Creating a proactive, shared, goal-orientated and caring relationship to ensure the student success of first-year students;
- Ensuring that first-year students feel as partners in their learning journey.

STUDENT COUNSELLING AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT UNIT (SCCDU).

“Congratulations on the next phase of life, This is an exciting phase yet challenging of them all. On this journey expect excitement, the formation of new relationships, independence, and emotional growth. A balance is needed in decision-making, refining/redefining your identity, and sharpening your career path which requires a well-rounded individual to make a success of your career. During this transitional phase, challenges are bound to happen, challenges that stretch your emotional, intellectual, and social muscles. It becomes difficult to navigate all this while also dealing with challenges from home. When you feel overwhelmed, tired, losing the drive, or emotionally drained it is okay to ask for help, do not feel alone, Student Counselling and Career Development Unit is here for you. Free professional and confidential counselling services are provided by student counsellors (Clinical/Educational Psychologists), and the services are available face-face and virtually.

Should you also experience the following: stress, relationship problems, trauma, family problems, depression, anxiety, termination of pregnancy counselling, sexuality difficulties (LGBTQ ++), grief, GBVF, adherence to treatment support, substance use problems, and any other issues. Moreover, should you encounter any academic challenges such as: poor academic performance, or career uncertainties, (we also offer career assessment _Interest, IQ, attitude, study habits, etc.).

Moreover, watch-out for our Peer-helpers in your faculties and residences_ whom you can talk to should you be in crisis. Peer-helpers will be wearing their badges.

We wish you all the best in your journey of becoming a future leader.

Library

First Entering Welcome Message From the Library

It gives me great pleasure to welcome, on behalf of The Library Services Department, all first entering students to the University of Venda. The library plays a key role in supporting students to progress in their studies. The library is often referred to as the heart of the university because of its role as an information provider to its community. Therefore, the aim of UNIVEN library is to support you by providing information you need throughout your studies.

Please ensure that you attend the library orientation when you are invited to do so. Library orientation will connect you with our specialist staff who will provide you with training on the use of library resources, services and facilities. The library facilities include computer workstations with internet access, group workrooms with projectors and whiteboards, printing, scanning, and photocopying. The library's collection consists of books, journals, newspapers, and magazines (electronic and print format). The process will include searching for information sources such as books and journals through the UNIVEN Library Catalogue and beyond (Worldcat Discovery Tool).

You can be confident that you will be provided with more than just the service of borrowing library books for academic purposes. UNIVEN library looks forward to your use of its information resources, services, and facilities.

3.Student Housing

The Student Housing Unit is dynamic in its approach, to respond to the needs of students and ensures a smooth and enabling Living and Learning environment.

The Unit contributes greatly on the early experiences, integration, and adaption of students to our campuses.

We thus significantly pay much focus on the student cycle. The living and learning initiatives exist to enhance the academic and social success of residence students.

Student Housing strives to create a living and learning environment as the foundation of its residence culture. Whilst the culture of living and learning is dynamic in its nature. Every effort is made to ensure that students' residence life experience will foster their holistic development as well as being fully supportive of their academic programme. The holistic student development initiative within the unit is embedded mainly as student learning centres, social and sporting activities.

The Unit strives to ensure the following:

1. To pivot a smooth transition for the living and learning communities to provide blended support to residence students.
2. Provide academic and psycho-social support through peer-to-peer initiatives to position students as co-creators and collaborators in their own residence and campus experience.
3. To contribute to the retention, development and success of students through the co-curricular activities and active engagement. We are intentionally creating spaces for students to engage in critical dialogues and debates to advance themselves and their communities in ways that are embedded on strong values and principles.

In each residence, staff members include the Residence Warden, who both reside on campus or on the residence premises. The Residence Warden oversees all operational matters on the assigned residences. The Residence Warden provides supervision in a residence which includes the reporting of maintenance and he/she/they are supported by the House Committee of that particular residence.
